Third National Offers Employers New Service

Third National Bank of Hampden County announced today it is offering a new service to employers: the preparation of payrolls and payroll checks, the maintenance of detailed records, and the preparation of related reports that are required today.

George R. Harwood, vice-president and comptroller of the Third National, said the bank is, in its new program, "sharing with employers of the area the capabilities of our IBM data processing equipment and the skills of our data processing people." He noted that the Third was the first bank in Western Massachusetts to move into electronic data processing and that the equipment has been in use at the Third for more than a year.

The new program — also a first for the Third in Western Massachusetts — is being made available to all companies, Mr. Harwood said, "although it now appears it will be most effective for employers of from 25 people up."

Utilization of the Third National service will "relieve employers of the inconvenience of payroll preparation and record keeping and reporting, and will release office people for more productive work in their own specialties."

"We also believe that employers will consider this service very reasonably priced when they learn of the details," Mr. Harwood said.

Select Mums Now While In Bloom

This is an excellent time to view the colorful hardy chrysanthemums and make your choices for your landscape.

Chrysanthemums can bring a variety of bold colors to your garden. Almost every garden setting is suitable for a splash of color of these popular flowers.

The danger is picking incorrect colors for your garden. As they are now in bloom at this time of the year, this is an excellent time to visit your local nursery and view the galaxy of colors so that you can make the proper choices.

Chrysanthemums are easy to grow according to experts of New England Nurserymen's Association. They require little care and blossoms range from shades of yellow, orange, red, purple, bronze, pink and white.

There are tall chrysanthemums such as decorators, spoon and pom-poms, and low-growing type such as cushion mums.

They should be planted in fertile, well-drained soil and have sunshine all day. The hardy types will thrive from year to year without replanting.

Chrysanthemums should be planted early in the Fall so that the roots will have time to become established. They should also be mulched with straw or pine boughs for the winter.

These flowers are extremely attractive when planted in front of evergreens. During the growing season, the branches should be pinched at two week intervals, otherwise the plants will produce only a few flowers.

Chrysanthemums can also be planted in the Spring, but the advantage of doing this chore in Fall is that you can actually see the spectacular colors of this plant when making your choice.

Sermon by Rev. Thornton at both services; 9:30 a.m. Sunday School; 10:20 a.m. Bible Study class in sanctuary for Adults and Senior MYF Group.

Thursday—7 p.m. Senior Choir rehearse.

One of Agawam High's most important organizations is the MIRROR staff who publish our school newspaper. This organization brings school news, social affairs, and sport scores to the student. This year a new subscription plan was inaugurated in which eight issues, that originally sells for 20c each, are bought for $1 a subscription.

The Journalism class works with the editors by writing news, sports, and feature stories which are abundant at AHS. The editors for this year are as follows: Editor-in-Chief: Susan Colli, News Editor: Martha Sharritt, Sports Editor: Joe Cibrowski, Feature Editor: Joyce Sarat, Art Editor: Jean Daubitz, Business Manager: Lenora Pupello, Mr. Petrone, AHS English teacher, is the advisor to the staff.

The MIRROR staff's main event, "Shout or Pout" dance will be held after one of the football games at the end of the season. Barbara Wright is chairman of the affair.

Career Conferences

Once again the Wednesday morning career conferences are in progress. These conferences are held to aid students to make decisions in choosing their college, career, and field of endeavor. Mr. David Skolnick, Guidance director, is in charge of the program.

"Hairdressing As A Career" will be the topic next Wednesday, October 9. The guest speaker will be Mrs. Kathryn Witkop, Director of LaBaron Hairdressing Academy in Springfield. Any students wishing to attend this conference or any others can obtain a pass from the Guidance Office.

Cleanliness is thriftiness to airlines inasmuch as dirt on exterior surfaces of jet airliners can cost an extra one-and-a-half pounds of fuel per nautical mile.

HODGES SEEKS

LIBRARY POST

Mr. Charles D. Hodges, well known professional photographer, stated that he is seeking the office of Library Trustee for the three year term in the coming Town Elections.

In commenting on his decision to run, Mr. Hodges remarked that this office may not present the political pyrotechnics to the voter that other elected offices do, but the subtle effects of an adequate and expanding library may well, in the long run, be of greater importance to the youth and citizens of the town in their knowledge, ability, and satisfaction.

Mr. Hodges is a graduate of Princeton University where he minored in English, in addition to study of related subjects. He resides at 817 Main St. with his wife, Barbara, and daughter Melinda. A son lives on the west coast.

St. Jude Appeal

Teenage march leaders in Agawam are: Miss JoAnn Ramah, Mrs. Philip Nassif and Public Relations, Jamille Shaer.

Among the first volunteers are: Jim Ramah, 145 Senator Ave., Russell Ramah, 145 Senator Ave., Judy Kelley, 12 Witheridge St., Jim Elasmah, Jr., 94 Senator Ave., Sandra Elasmah, 94 Senator Ave., Elizabeth Ann Marrewa, 18 Reed St., Jane Gallerani, 361 Suffield St., Jean Ann Gallerani, 361 Suffield St., Sandra Markham, 8 Stewart Lane, Barbara Pepe, 70 Royal St., Dolly Hutchins, 7 Elsie St., and Sandra White, 60 Alhambra Circle.

PERFECT COMBINATION

PROFITS CREATE JOBS

A study recently completed by the McGraw Hill Publishing Company refutes the lingering notion that profits by manufacturers are made largely at the expense of workers and consumers.

The study shows that when profits rise, employment and income generally rise also. And when they fall, employment and income fall with them.

In comparing the six most profitable United States manufacturing industries with the six least profitable, the survey showed that the most profitable paid wages averaging 35 per cent higher.

Also, the five most profitable spent 40 times more money on research and development than did the five least profitable.

The lesson is plain. Any force that tends to eliminate reasonable profits, whether it is oppressive taxes, excessive wage demands, poor management, or punitive government action, hurts workers, hurts consumers, and hurts our economy.

And that's why the best step the federal government can take to spur the economy and increase employment is less spending and waste with subsequent reduction of taxes to enhance profits.

Christmas Seal

Agency Needs Help

Girl Scout and Brownie troops have traditionally gained credit toward their community service badge by helping with the annual Christmas Seal campaign.

Preparations for the campaign are beginning now, although the annual effort to gain support for programs that control and prevent tuberculosis and respiratory diseases does not begin until mid-November.

Folding Christmas Seals is one phase of the process of preparing for the mailing of more than one-hundred-thousand sets of Christmas Seals to Hampden County families.

Girl Scout and Brownie troop leaders who wish to volunteer their troops for this community service may call the Hampden County Tuberculosis and Public Health Association at 284 State Street in Springfield, and boxes of Christmas Seals to be folded will be delivered to the troops' meeting places.

Christmas Seal contributions, in the annual campaign that begins in mid-November, are the only support of year-round programs of research, rehabilitation, health education and case finding for the prevention and control of tuberculosis and respiratory diseases.

You don't have to take our word for it. We're willing to rest our case on our cars.

SPORTSMEN'S CORNER

By Bill Chiba

Max Goldberg, owner of the Hampden Beef Co., and Harley Shastany, head salesman for the company, journeyed up to Crystal Lake, Vt., recently. The reason being the tales Herm Mutti kept spouting about a certain Mr. Towers of West Springfield and his limit of 2 to 3 pound trout he regularly was bringing home from Barton.

FISHING FAST

Max and Harley had a ball catching rainbows from 10 to 18 inches on the 9-3 streamer using monofilament and wire line ahead of the lure. They were fishing about 200 feet of wire and trolling at a good clip. On one of the passes they passed another boat with a father and son combination pulling in 2 pounds and better fish. Harley inquired as to what the boys were using, and was informed that they were using the same lure as they. The anglers turned out to be Mr. Towers and his son. After watching the young fellow fish for a spell, Harley is looking forward to taking lessons off of the young man. He has the technique of fishing rainbows down pat. The two "Beef Benders" spent a successful weekend at Crystal, and are looking forward to another trek back there in the near future.

Bear season opened in Vermont Sept. 1 and up to the 18th of this month 57 animals have been bagged by hunters. The whole month of September's total last year was only 41. Reports of kills are coming in from all over the state this year. This means that there is a good crop of bear and the hunters have had exceptionally good hunting so far.

The bird season will open Oct. 1 and bowhunting for deer will open the 12th of the month. The partridge are in abundance this year and should afford good shooting to the hunter. Deer are showing in numbers in the southern part of the state, and probably will start making appearances more regularly in the middle and northern sections in the next couple of weeks.

The bear season also opened in New Hampshire Sept. 1 and will run till Dec. 10. The number of bear spotted and already killed point to a good hunting year. Maine reports that the sightings of bear are numerous with five in one group being seen together in a field.

NSF TO AID INVESTIGATION OF N. H. WILD CANIDS

The National Science Foundation has announced approval of a $38,000 grant to Miss Lawrence, Curator of Mammals, Harvard University, for a three-year study of the Wild Canids of Northeastern United States. The New Hampshire department had the litter of five wild hogs on display in 1960 at the Eastern States Exposition. This "Corner" carried a column and pictures of them at that time. Walter T. and Helenette Silver, department biologists, have to date raised three litters from the original stock—two from a brother-sister mating, and one from a wild female-dog cross. The former are remarkably

FISHING LINES

By DICK WOLFF

If the biting rate of fish could be plotted on a chart, the curve would go up sharply after Labor Day. At least, that's the direction much of the marine life will be taking. With vacationers gone, the city kids back from camp, and the waters starting to cool, fish will be moving to the surface for more active feeding. They seem to sense the long, lean winter months ahead.

Cooler autumn air means that bass, pickerel and trout will start biting better, particularly brown trout — sluggish in hot weather, but rough and ready for those late Fall fly-hatches. Some of the best brown- and brook-trout fishing is coming up in Western Montana and Wyoming and other trout-fishing areas where the Fall spawners move into the smaller streams.

You'll find these beauties a rare treat on one of Garcia's 8-ft. or 8½-ft. fly rods in the Gold Line, strung with Infallible Dick Wolff Autograph Fly Line. Balance them with either a light-weight 3½" Pridex fly-casting reel or the medium-weight Beaudex in the same family.

Travel up to the Great Lakes or near the Canadian border, and you'll find pike, walleye and muskie rising more quickly to the bait. These varieties feed until it's too cold to fish — especially small- and large-mouth bass, which have sense enough to want to put on some extra weight before winter sets in.

They're looking for frogs along the weeds and water pads — and there's no reason why they shouldn't find your Abu-Hi-Lo plug waiting for them. If you use this wily lure, keep it at shallow depth by setting the lip control at almost a vertical position. When you're working awkward spots, you might prefer an Abu-Reflex spinner designed to snake through weeds and other submerged snags.

As cooler weather moves in, habits also change in salt-water angling. Bait fish, such as mullet, start moving southward, hugging the shore as they go. Their natural enemies — albacore, white marlin, and bonito — come inshore to follow them — and that's when you want to be ready with some long rods.

For surf-fishing at this time, you'll find the 11' 4" Garcia 2573 rod comfortable, especially when using it with a Mitchell 302 or 306 spinning reel and a 1-oz. Luster-Lure.

If it's salmon you're after, the 10' Garcia 2554 rod will give a good performance, especially when worked with 15- to 20-lb. test line.

The later it gets the more fight in the great striped bass and blue-fish. Seems like nature, shaking loose from the bonds of summer heat, is making one last huge lunge of energy before the mercury dips below freezing. Better eat a hearty breakfast before shoving off!

IF VINCE EDWARDS CAN find the time, he'll come to New York this fall to be a guest on ABC's Patty Duke Show. It would be the second half of a swap deal—

Vince Edwards
... may guest on
Patty Duke Show

Patty appeared on the first Ben Casey episode last year. Other guests who might appear on the show during the season: Peter Lawford, Paul Lynde and Elliott Reid . . . Carol Burnett will star in at least three CBS specials next year, following the anticipated birth of her baby in late winter. She'll do an original 60-minute variety show in late spring, her "Carol and Company" of last spring is to be repeated in June, and the following November she'll star in an adaptation of "Once Upon a Mattress," her Broadway hit . . . Walt Disney's three-year-old Hayley Mills movie, "Pollyanna," will be edited into a three-parter for television via NBC's Wonderful World of Color in the fall.

CHARLTON HESTON IS UP for a Hallmark Hall of Fame drama, Sidney Kingsley's "The Patriots," scheduled to be telecast on Nov. 15. He'll play Thomas Jefferson . . . Revue is blue-printing an hour comedy series in color for writer-producer-comedian Stan Freberg . . . Adam Clayton Powell, New York City's controversial Negro Congressman, will be the subject of an NBC White Paper in the fall. The network promises to probe into every aspect of his life, personal and political. Two other White Papers next season will show the failures and triumphs of American policy in Cuba, specifically, "Bay of Pigs" and "Missile Pullout" . . . ABC's Hootenanny, which is taped on various college campuses around the country, will visit the military academies this fall. A show from Annapolis is tentatively scheduled for Oct. 12, from West Point on Nov. 16.

Joan Crawford
... on Route 66
—maybe!

JOAN CRAWFORD HAS AGREED to be guest star in a Route 66 episode, to be shot in Maine, if (and it's a big if) she likes the script, which is now being written to her measure . . . Having run out of doctors, lawyers, cowboys and private eyes, TV now apparently is ready to turn its cameras around. The three heroes of MGM's planned hour-long series "The Film Makers" will be a producer, a director and a writer . . . That hour-long CBS special, "Elizabeth Taylor in London," has been set for Oct. 6 . . . ABC's new The Farmer's Daughter is the first series ever to open with a two-parter. Episode, "The Speechmaker," will bring Inger Stevens to Washington with a letter to a Congressman asking his good offices in getting her a job with the Peace Corps in the Congo . . . Jose Ferrer, who doesn't do much TV, has agreed to play a role in an episode of Desilu's new The Greatest Show on Earth.

SOCIAL SECURITY

Questions and Answers

Q. Will the social security office give me a physical examination?

A. Generally, your case will be decided on the medical reports of your own doctor or doctors. Some border-line cases require a further physical examination by a doctor engaged by the State agency that will make the medical determination in the case.

Q. Will I lose my disability money if I don't report to the social security office promptly when I am disabled?

A. If you delay too long, some benefits may be lost as the social security law permits payment of retroactive benefits for 12 months only. More dangerous than that — if you delay more than 18 months you may even lose your entitlement to any benefits at all. A prompt call at your social security office is always your best protection.

Q. I have been rated 100 percent by the Veterans Administration. Will that qualify me for social security disability payments?

A. Not necessarily. The rules applied by the VA and social security differ somewhat. The following by the VA does indicate that a prompt visit to your social security office is in order.

Q. I have been bedridden for some time and cannot call at the social security office promptly and may never be able to get in. What can you do for me?

A. Call or write to your nearest social security office to explain that you can't come in and a field representative of the office will call on you at home, take your claim, help you get the necessary evidence, and handle your case as completely as if you could come in.

Q. Recently I learned a farmer can use the optional method of reporting. I have just reviewed my tax returns and find it would have been to my advantage to use the optional method in 1959 and 1961. I could report $1200 under the optional method. Is it too late?

A. No. You can file amended returns for both years. There is a time limit for filing the returns, though. If you want to amend your 1959 return, you must do so no later than April 15, 1963.

Stone Completes Basic Training

PARRIS ISLAND, S. C. (FHT NC) — Marine Private Peter A. Stone, son of Mrs. Blanch G. Stone of 81 High St., Agawam, completed basic training Sept. 11 at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot, Parris Island, S. C., and is scheduled for advanced infantry training at Camp Lejeune, N. C.

The intensive training includes drill, bayonet training, physical conditioning, parades and ceremonies, and other military subjects.

Three weeks are spent on the rifle range where recruits fire the M-14 rifle and receive instruction in other basic Marine infantry weapons.

Recruit training prepares Marines for further specialized instruction in a service school or on-the-job training with a Fleet Marine Force Unit.

Always slow down when you see children at play or near a school. A youngster may not recognize signs of danger and suddenly dart in front of your car. The Automobile Legal Association says: live, and let live. This applies to children, as well as adults.

THIS WEEK'S BEST BUYS from MASSACHUSETTS FARMS

Courtesy of Massachusetts Department of Agriculture

Apples—This is "peak of harvest" week in Mass. orchards, with prized McIntosh comprising 65% of crop. Cortlands are also a good buy; when sliced the meat stays white lots longer with a dash of lemon juice.

Corn—Last call for the season's most mature, best-eating harvest. Cauliflower—Good supply of best native quality.

Celery—Our Boston Pascal is especially flavorful and white in color.

Peaches—Mass. native Elbertas are large and excellent quality this season.

Potatoes—Katahdins from our Pioneer Valley growers more plentiful this week; some growers now packing uniform-size potatoes for convenience of housewives.

Tomatoes—Vine-ripened native outdoor tomatoes will wind up season this month. No more after these are gone until next August.

Today's Agri-Fact: If our McIntosh apples are not all picked within two or three weeks, they would all be on the ground. In fact, they are sprayed with a hormone to keep them from falling off.

According to Louis Webster, long-time Director of Markets for the Massachusetts Department of Agriculture, turkeys grown on Massachusetts farms have largely replaced many others, including Vermont turkey, which once had a regular and honored place in our homes and public eating places.

Not too many years ago, Turkey raising in Massachusetts was very hazardous and you hardly ever saw a flock in Eastern Mass.

At Your Service

DAVID C. GALLANO
Director of Veterans Services

Massachusetts veterans in training under the Korean GI Bill as well as eligible "orphans" training under the 'Orphans' Educational Assistance program can save themselves a lot of trouble and delay if they take the time to mark the first of each month on their calendars with the reminder: "GI Certificate Due Soon."

The Veterans Administration explained today that this is a monthly certification of class attendance that must be signed by the trainee and by a representative of his school, and sent to VA promptly after each month of training completed.

Generally the school will remind the student to sign the form shortly after the first of the month; but sometimes the trainee will have to give the school a quick reminder.

Under the law, VA must have a signed certificate before it can send a trainee his monthly GI allowance check. If the certificate doesn't come in, the check can't go out. If the certificate is received late, the check will be late.

Hence VA's suggestion to mark the calendar to be sure that certificates are sent in on time.
